

Child's Name _____

Behavior Skills Questionnaire

In an attempt to partner with you, please consider how regularly your child exhibits these behaviors. Please note that we are not looking for perfect children; we are interested in parental awareness of their child's behavior. We encourage you to be honest in your assessment of your child, knowing that we are all growing in these areas. Please check the appropriate box next to each statement.

1 - Never 2 - Rarely 3 - Some of the time 4 - Most of the time 5 - All of the time N/A - Does not apply ? - Not sure

Meeting and Greeting	1	2	3	4	5	N/A	?
Responds in a friendly way, smiles
Meets the eyes of a person who speaks to them
Knows when it is appropriate and safe to greet a stranger
Greets adults respectfully with their titles (Mrs. Smith, Dr. Jones, Aunt Betty)
Knows how to get acquainted with peers
Volunteers appropriate information about himself

Courtesy	1	2	3	4	5	N/A	?
Waits for his turn to talk without interrupting
Uses courteous phrases such as, "May I please?...Thank you...Excuse me."
Waits patiently for his turn in line, in a game, etc
Rushes to be first in line or play with a toy

Conversation and Communication	1	2	3	4	5	N/A	?
Communicates ideas logically or describes people, places and things accurately
Allows enough physical space between himself and others
Listens attentively and replies with understanding
Asks questions politely when he does not understand
Participates in conversations appropriately without monopolizing them
Interrupts
Knows what to say/do when pressured by others to do something wrong or against his conscience

Conflict Resolution/Problem Solving	1	2	3	4	5	N/A	?
Tolerates being teased and reacts good-naturedly
Refrains from angry outbursts when he is frustrated or does not get his way
Shares, gives up his own wishes willingly, and puts others first
Answers angry words with kind ones
Seeks help from appropriate people when he sees or experiences a need
Apologizes sincerely when he has wronged or hurt another, whether deliberately, thoughtlessly, or accidentally
Forgives and forgets willingly rather than holding a grudge
Is able to develop relationships with peers

Group Dynamics	1	2	3	4	5	N/A	?
Follows directions from the adult leader in a group
Works cooperatively with others, offering suggestions and contributing to a project's success
Chooses to play alone
Tends to be the one in charge of the game, song, or project
Excuses himself from activities that violate family or biblical standards
Able to play alone quietly
Talks excessively or blurts out answers in a group

Concentration and Focus	1	2	3	4	5	N/A	?
Makes careless mistakes
Able to sustain attention in and complete tasks
Often loses things, easily distracted, or forgetful
Often Fidgety
Able to remain seated at the dinner table, in a classroom, or in Sunday school
Flexible when routine is changed
Engages in repetitive movement or aimless wandering
Avoids tasks requiring sustained mental effort

Please answer these additional questions for students entering 5th-8th Grade:	1	2	3	4	5	N/A	?
Knows how to introduce people to each other
Is punctual when others are waiting. (e.g., mealtime)
Discerns what is inappropriate to discuss
Knows how to change an inappropriate subject or excuse himself graciously
Takes a turn at leading a game, song, or project							